Re: Northside Transactional Database

Dear Kathy:

Please review the enclosed response in detail regarding The Courier-Journal's involvement at the Northside site.

According to their letter dated September 3, 1987, The Courier-Journal and Standard Gravure are two separate companies. However, the key information is that they had common ownership at the time of disposal.

The Courier-Journal's other claim is that they only sent waste to the Enviro-Chem site. Please review their waste transaction data in detail to verify that they are a PRP on the Northside site as well as the Enviro-Chem site.

I have also enclosed a copy of their waste allocation listing for the Enviro-Chem site. Please review this listing as well as the Northside listing and compare all data to identify if trans-shipments occurred between these two sites. This might be a possible solution to their problems.

Please contact me after you have completed your review. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to call.

Sincerely,

Janet Haff
